

Columnar Blue Spruce

(Picea pungens 'fastigata')

Mature Height: 20'-30'

Mature Spread: 8'-10'

Growth Rate: Slow

Columnar Blue Spruce is a narrow, upright cultivar of Colorado Blue Spruce. It is a slower growing, and more dense version that stays columnar in shape. It is an excellent choice for tight spaces and as an accent in a landscaping berm. It has the same disease resistance and hardiness profile as the seed grown parent species. It does not do well in wet soils, but can tolerate drought conditions well. It maintains the blue color year-round.
